To Roy @ Compass Computers,

I just wanted to share my recent experience with Compass Computers

Having a basic computer background and setting up my own office computer system, I've had plenty of technical queries which I have presented to Roy on various occasions.

Roy has never once told me that it was not possible or that I had been a fool for trying to do it myself (even though it might be the case).

If he did not personally have the solution it was guaranteed that at least one member of the Compass team would.

Thanks to Roy and his team I have a functioning computer system able to deal with all the heavy editing requirements of a media company. Their skill and knowledge with computer systems is of the highest standard and I would never hesitate to recommend Compass Computers to any of my clients.

Yours Faithfully

Josh Middlebrook
